

---

How to Hit Your Golf Driver

Posted by ak47xxxx - 2010/03/16 16:43

---

Your initial golf shot is the most important golf shot in my estimation. It's sort of like first down in football. If you're having trouble during a round of golf with hitting your taylormade golf clubs in the fairway then drop down to your three wood immediately. Maybe after some success with your three woods you will gain your confidence back to try your driver again.

The little bit of distance youâ€™ll lose by hitting your three wood will be more than compensated by being on the short grass in the fairway. Work out any problems with your taylormade r7 irons in practice not on the golf course.

The first thing you need to understand about a taylormade r9 driver is that the length is probably doing you the most harm. A golf

---